

Grotefeld Hoffmann

Press Release

September 5, 2017 – Grotefeld Hoffmann is pleased to announce that Timothy Poeschl has joined the firm as a partner in the firm’s Minneapolis Office. Mr. Poeschl handles subrogation cases of all sizes, primarily involving fire and water losses, collapses, commercial property loss, commercial lost profit claims, business interruption claims, and agricultural losses. Mr. Poeschl’s defense matters involve personal injury and property damage on first and third party matters. Mr. Poeschl has significant experience in successfully handling large loss and catastrophic loss subrogation matters involving agricultural claims of all types.

Mr. Poeschl is licensed in Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin, as well as the U. S. District Court of Minnesota and the Southern District Court of Iowa. Mr. Poeschl received his B.A. in Political Science from the University of Minnesota Duluth. He earned his law degree from William Mitchell College of Law in St. Paul, MN.